Our Children Need Us

Traditionally, Aboriginal children were taken care of within the circle of family and community. Today, many Aboriginal children in care are waiting for Aboriginal families.

What can I do to help?

The greatest help you can provide is to offer a safe, healthy and stable home for an Aboriginal child in need of care. By becoming an Aboriginal caregiver, you'll give a child the opportunity to learn and grow in a way that supports their cultural identity and personal development.
